Dear Dr. Lederberg:

We have not yet received any information regarding Fulbright awards for Italy, France or the United Kingdom other than the general announcement which you have seen. They promised to send additional material but it has not yet arrived. I shall try and remember to let you know when it does arrive but it might be wise for you to give my secretary a ring again in a month or so and ask her whether it has arrived.

I know there has been a good deal of discussion among various people as to the advisability of the National Science Foundation making foreign travel awards. So far as I know they have not made any awards specifically for this purpose. On the other hand I know that they have authorized the expenditure of travel funds in the regular National Science funds research grant awards for this purpose. If you have sufficient funds in the travel account of one of your research grants you might inquire of the donor whether there would be any objection to the expenditure of these funds for such a purpose.

Yours very truly,

I. L. Baldwin
Vice President
